Wikipedia:In the news/Candidates

This page provides a place to discuss new items for inclusion on In the news (ITN), a protected template on the Main Page (see past items in the ITN archives). Do not report errors in ITN items that are already on the Main Page here – discuss those at the relevant section of WP:ERRORS.

In the news toolbox

This candidates page is integrated with the daily pages of Portal:Current events. A light green header (dark green when in dark mode) appears under each daily section – it includes transcluded Portal:Current events items for that day. You can discuss ITN candidates under the header.

Glossary

- Blurbs are one-sentence summaries of the news story.
  - Altblurbs, labelled alt1, alt2, etc., are alternative suggestions to cover the same story.
  - A target article, bolded in text, is the focus of the story. Each blurb must have at least one such article, but you may also link non-target articles.
- Articles in the Ongoing line describe events getting continuous coverage.
- The Recent deaths (RD) line includes any living thing whose death was recently announced. Consensus may decide to create a blurb for a recent death.

All articles featured in the ITN template must pass our standards of review. They should be up-to-date, demonstrate relevance via good sourcing and have at least an acceptable quality.

Nomination steps

- Make sure the item you want to nominate has an article that meets our minimum requirements and contains reliable coverage of a current event you want to create a blurb about. We will not post about events described in an article that fails our quality standards.
- Find the correct section below for the date of the event (not the date nominated). Do not add sections for new dates manually – a bot does that for us each day at midnight (UTC).
- Create a level 4 header with the article name (==== Your article here ====). Add (RD) or (Ongoing) if appropriate.

  Then paste the {{ITN candidate}} template with its parameters and fill them in. The news source should be reliable, support your nomination and be in the article. Write your blurb in simple present tense. Below the template, briefly explain why we should post that event. After that, save your edit. Your nomination is ready!

- You may add {{ITN note}} to the target article's talk page to let editors know about your nomination.

The better your article's quality, the better it covers the event and the wider its perceived significance (see WP:ITNSIGNIF for details), the better your chances of getting the blurb posted.

Headers

- When the article is ready, updated and there is consensus to post, you can mark the item as (Ready). Remove that wording if you feel the article fails any of these necessary criteria.
- Admins should always separately verify whether these criteria are met before posting items marked (Ready). For more guidance, check WP:ITN/A.
  - If satisfied, post the item and change the header to (Posted).
  - Where there is no consensus, close the discussion section and change the header to (Closed). If the article's quality remains poor, leave a brief note explaining why to encourage and assist others in fixing it.
  - Sometimes, editors ask to retract an already-posted nomination because of a fundamental error or because consensus changed. If you feel the community supports this, remove the item and mark the item as (Pulled).

Voicing an opinion on an item

Format your comment to contain "support" or "oppose", and include a rationale for your choice. In particular, address the notability of the event, the quality of the article, and whether it has been updated.

Please do...

1. Pick an older item to review near the bottom of this page, before the eligibility runs out and the item scrolls off the page and gets abandoned in the archive, unused and forgotten.
2. Review an item even if it has already been reviewed by another user. You may be the first to spot a problem, or the first to confirm that an identified problem was fixed. Piling on the list of "support!" votes will help administrators see what is ready to be posted on the Main Page.
3. Tell about problems in articles if you see them. Be bold and fix them yourself if you know how, or tell others if it's not possible.

Please do not...

1. Add simple "support!" or "oppose!" votes without including your reasons. Similarly, curt replies such as "who?", "meh", or "duh!" are not helpful. A vote without reasoning means little for us, please elaborate yourself.
2. Oppose an item just because the event is only relating to a single country, or failing to relate to one. We post a lot of such content, so these comments are generally unproductive.
3. Accuse other editors of supporting, opposing or nominating due to a personal bias (such as ethnocentrism). We at ITN do not handle conflicts of interest.
4. Comment on a story without first reading the relevant article(s).
5. Oppose a recurring item here because you disagree with the recurring items criteria. Discuss them here.
6. Use ITN as a forum for your own political or personal beliefs. Such comments are irrelevant to the outcome and are potentially disruptive.

Suggesting updates

There are two places where you can request corrections to posted items:

- Anything that does not change the intent of the blurb (spelling, grammar, markup issues, updating death tolls etc.) should be discussed at WP:Errors.
- Discuss major changes in the blurb's intent or very complex updates as part of the current ITNC nomination.

This page contains a section for each day and a sub-section for each nomination. Eight days of current nominations are maintained – older days are archived.

Nominator's comments: Major deadly fire in Bangkok. At least 27 people killed and over 60 injured at the Rong Beer Na Lat Phrao pub in Chatuchak District overnight. This is one of the deadliest pub fires in Thailand since the 2009 Santika Club fire and has received extensive international coverage. The article is new and has been updated with sources, so should be suitable for ITN. No free image yet for the aftermath, but the article itself meets notability. The nominated event is listed on WP:ITN/R, so each occurrence is presumed to be important enough to post. Comments should focus on whether the quality of the article and update meet WP:ITNCRIT, not the significance.

Nominator's comments: Wimbledon is over now. There were 20 different championships and so it seems best to summarise the overall event. The pictures we have of the winners of the gentlemen's and ladies singles events don't seem suitable as they were taken elsewhere and they are not wearing white, as is required at this event. The suggested picture was actually taken at this year's championship and so seems the most appropriate of the few that we have, showing players in white on a grass court at the venue. - Oppose - Relatively minor shooting. With two shooters exchanging gunfire, this is likely gang related and not of any further significance. Nfitz (talk) 08:57, 12 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Ordinary gunfight which is just a WP:NEWSEVENT. Andrew (talk) 09:02, 12 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose on quality Very barebones, not quite up to standard that we expect. The C of E God Save the King! (talk) 10:03, 12 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Non-notabke Gunfight. ITN is not a crime ticker. Gotitbro (talk) 10:30, 12 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose on both quality and notability. Article has barely 1300 characters, and the shooting was relatively minor as said by Nfitz. R. M. Holda - (talk) 13:35, 12 July 2026 (UTC)

  Strong oppose Not convinced as to the true large-scale or long-lasting impact in Canada, or the effects for the wider region. I echo the concerns above about the true scope of this skirmish/shooting, and also concerns about the article's short length. Something this short would be suitable if we posted it an hour after it happened, but it's over 12 hours on from creation and it's still only this long, when more details should have been reported on and added to the article. Nominator's comments: The only edits in the past week (https://en.wikipedia.org/w/index.php?title=2026_Ebola_epidemic&diff=1363396294&oldid=1362281471) have been to update the death tolls and to fix references. The "Timeline of the outbreak" ends on 29 June and much of the rest of the article is written in WP:Proseline or bulleted lists. I have no opinion on the event itself but the article is not currently being kept up to date and falls below the minimum expected quality. Dumelow (talk) 04:44, 10 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose Firstly Reform only have a 8 out of 650 MPs and no amount of disproportational media presence will change that. Secondly this is just a publicity stunt to hide the fact Farage has secretly received large sums of money from questionable sources and has now been caught doing so. This is an attempt to derail the investigation. Local political drama of just one opposition MP. Abcmaxx (talk) 20:36, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose 1, it's not been officially called yet (the government could still block it by not appointing him to the office of profit). 2, it's still a local national matter (which I say as someone British). And 3, we don't tend to do by-elections on ITN. The C of E God Save the King! (talk) 20:40, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose Nigel garage is not an official leader or anything (other than his party) so there's no reason to post this just because of the resignation. Also, by elections happen often. Vetrenarisisum (talk) 21:35, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose - We very rightly didn't post the Makerfield by-election, even though it was correctly anticipated to lead to the resignation of the actual PM. We absolutely should not post the resignation - as MP only, not even as party leader - of the unelected leader of a fringe party. This is ludicrous. GenevieveDEon (talk) 22:54, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

WP:NTRUMP is an essay not policy, and it should be noted that not everything Trump does is tabloid drama. FIFA being corrupt/political is noteworthy and this is being widely reported. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:07, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
Oppose – Platonic ideal example of "Covered by Ongoing". There's basically a whole section on it there, though it's small. Not the biggest US-based news story of the week either. ~Maplestrip/Mable (chat) 08:06, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
Strong oppose this is just another one controversy of this World Cup, so there's no point of highlighting this one specifically. NotKringe (talk) 08:10, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

- Moot Now that the US have been crushed by Belgium, the fuss will tend to fade fast. It further confirms that FIFA is corrupt but that's not news so we need some further development for this to have legs. Andrew (talk) 09:41, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Comment Trump isn't even the issue here - he does stupid things like this all the time and it's not news. What is news is FIFA's response, because a non-corrupt sports administration would have told Trump to go forth and multiply. The issue of the governance of FIFA (see their response to the Belgian FA...words fail me) is clearly a news story but it shouldn't be couched purely in the terms of this particular incident, which given the match result has turned out to be irrelevant. Any other controversies are (at the moment) covered by the Ongoing. And yes, this article shouldn't exist, we have 2026_FIFA_World_Cup#Controversies for that. Black Kite (talk) 09:47, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

The consensus was to wait but since this announcement (where one line was added to the article) there have been no further developments noted in the article, therefore the impact of the announcement remains unknown. Abcmaxx (talk) 08:08, 13 July 2026 (UTC)

Nominator's comments: A big step to end the war. ArionStar (talk) 03:49, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

- Support on notability This is a major development in a war not covered by ongoing. --MtPenguinMonster (talk) 04:22, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose My understanding is that Gaza doesn't have much of a functioning civilian government already as its infrastructure has been devastated. The more significant issue is whether Hamas is still armed, functioning as a military force and occupying the territory. Civilian government lacks power if there's a force like this on its territory. That's the big problem in Lebanon, for example. Andrew (talk) 06:15, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
  Your post is incorrect, there is a government there run by Hamas. See here. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 13:33, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
  The article that Salmon cites puts it like this, "On 6 July 2026, Hamas announced the resignation of its civil administration under the Gaza peace plan, though this did not include the military wing of Hamas and was judged to be unlikely to result in notable change to Gaza." That's my point. Andrew (talk) 13:52, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

It is still the resignation of a civil administration, we posted Keir Starmer's intention to resign, it didn't require the dissolution of the British armed forces. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 15:39, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

Starmer was a functioning PM. Gaza and Hamas don't seem to have an equivalent currently. The article Hamas government of October 2016 explains that During the Gaza war, Palestinian factions held intra-Palestinian talks in October 2024 where they agreed on a plan for a "Community Support Committee" to govern Gaza. After Issam al-Da'alis was killed on 18 March 2025 during the Gaza war, his post was left vacant, with Hamas envisioning that the committee would assume government affairs. This proposal later materialized into the National Committee for the Administration of Gaza. Andrew (talk) 16:25, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

That's not my point - it's that Gaza has an administration independent of it's military wing, which can be dissolved while maintaining the military. I wasn't arguing that Gaza is a parliamentary monarchy. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:16, 8 July 2026 (UTC)

@Salmon Of Ignorance we can also be confident that Starmer will actually leave office in a way we can't be that Hamas will actually dissolve their government - there's been countless examples in the last three years of Hamas and/or the Israeli government saying they'd do something and then proceeding to never do it. The Kip (contribs) 17:35, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

You'll notice I haven't (yet) supported the proposal - Andrew's initial objection was based around the political structure rather than whether or not this would materialise. I will always argue against an argument I think is illegitimate, even if I think there may be other legitimate arguments. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:14, 8 July 2026 (UTC)

Hatting off-topic tirade. The Kip (contribs) 16:42, 9 July 2026 (UTC)

- Weak oppose – For one I would wait for the actual dissolution of the government and its replacement being developed, and also I don't think the update is quite extensive enough for it right now. I hope we can feature this article when the dissolution goes through, however. Might be the end of an era, depending on how this plays out. ~Maplestrip/Mable (chat) 08:10, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Support on notability. This shows that Hamas intends to comply with the demands of the UN, at least to demonstrate this. Wi1-ch (talk) 09:56, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Wait until the actual dissolution takes place, as said by Maplestrip. R. M. Holda - (talk) 12:55, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Wait - There's been plenty of instances in this conflict of things being said but not done, let's wait until the dissolution actually happens. The Kip (contribs) 17:30, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Wait until actual dissolution of government. Otherwise, this is undoubtably a notable development. Nice4What (talk · contribs) ♥ 03:05, 8 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Agree with Andrew (a rarity). This is unlikely to have any meaningful effect even if implemented, and we have no idea about how/when that'll happen. This also has no effect no the Israeli occupation despite the misleadingly named "Board of Peace". Gotitbro (talk) 15:41, 8 July 2026 (UTC)
- Wait The dissolution of a government would obviously be significant but I would wait until it happens. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 09:57, 9 July 2026 (UTC)

Ongoing item nomination
Nominator's comments: Could I suggest adding, in the Ongoing section, a link to the Knockout stage of the World Cup? So it would render as FIFA World Cup (Knockout Stage)? And we would periodically update to the next stages as the rounds advance. This isn't an error, so I didn't post on the Front Page Errors page. QueensanditsCrazy (talk) 15:49, 6 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose - We already have a link to the tournament, and that's sufficient. GenevieveDEon (talk) 16:14, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Weak support this seems helpful, though there has been a concern about Ongoing getting "too long". Natg 19 (talk) 17:21, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
  I don't think it being too long is an issue for something we know will be removed in 12 days. The issue with growing length is things being added that won't be removed for years (forever wars). Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:09, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose per GenevieveDEon. Mr. Lechkar (talk) 18:06, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Support IMHO, this is helpful and accurate. I see no downside to directing readers to the place where they will find well-curated, useful information. I also don't think "ongoing is too long" is a substantive, policy-based vote rationale. FlipandFlopped 18:15, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Tournament is linked. TMI. The current link already includes ALL the games and schedule/bracket. Nfitz (talk) 18:33, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose should be a clear link on main article, we are trying to cut back on too many links in ongoing. Masem (t) 18:35, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Link to section The main article has a section for the knockout stage. The existing ongoing entry for the main article could be piped so that the reader is taken straight to that section. I.e. 2026 FIFA World Cup#Knockout stage piped as 2026 FIFA World Cup. Andrew (talk) 19:27, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
  This works for me too QueensanditsCrazy (talk) 21:37, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
  I would support this too. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:08, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
  I disagree. A reader would click the link expecting information about the World Cup and perhaps want to read about it as a whole. Bringing the reader straight to the knockout stage subsection without making it clear beforehand could be confusing. Nice4What (talk · contribs) ♥ 03:06, 8 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose not really helpful as this page takes almost as long to scroll down to the current status of the knock-out table as the main World Cup article (which does a good job on its own to guide people to that section). Khuft (talk) 21:35, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose per GenevievDEon and other opposes. Jusdafax (talk) 06:36, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Weak oppose – This is a really good idea, and I am really on the fence. On the one hand, we're not a sports almanac, but on the other, this is exactly the data most people are interested in finding and would represent us as a dynamic up-to-date resource. In the end, though, I think it's most important for us to stay steadfast in representing the subject only broadly, warts and all. We're not just featuring a sports tournament, we're featuring an enormous sociological, logistical, and political event, and I'm personally not excited about highlighting the tournament angle. ~Maplestrip/Mable (chat) 08:14, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- I would support replacing the general tournament link with a link to the knockout stage, but having both is an oppose from me as too much. jcgoble3 (talk) 09:56, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose there's no point, we already have the World Cup in ongoing. We don't need to clutter the ongoing more with redundant stuff. Ongoing is not a place that tracks live sports and gives updates on tournaments. Vetrenarisisum (talk) 21:41, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose If the tournament is going to be linked, it should link to the main article. Greenflipper (talk) 17:06, 8 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Needless bloat. The main event is the feature, readers wanting the details can easily read the body where major summaries are provided. ITN is not a sports ticker. Gotitbro (talk) 17:29, 8 July 2026 (UTC)

Nominators often include links to external websites and other references in discussions on this page. It is usually best to provide such links using the inline URL syntax `[http://example.com]` rather than using `<ref></ref>` tags, because that keeps all the relevant information in the same place as the nomination without having to jump to this section, and facilitates the archiving process.

Glossary

- Blurbs are one-sentence summaries of the news story.
  - Altblurbs, labelled alt1, alt2, etc., are alternative suggestions to cover the same story.
  - A target article, bolded in text, is the focus of the story. Each blurb must have at least one such article, but you may also link non-target articles.
- Articles in the Ongoing line describe events getting continuous coverage.
- The Recent deaths (RD) line includes any living thing whose death was recently announced. Consensus may decide to create a blurb for a recent death.

All articles featured in the ITN template must pass our standards of review. They should be up-to-date, demonstrate relevance via good sourcing and have at least an acceptable quality.

Nomination steps

- Make sure the item you want to nominate has an article that meets our minimum requirements and contains reliable coverage of a current event you want to create a blurb about. We will not post about events described in an article that fails our quality standards.
- Find the correct section below for the date of the event (not the date nominated). Do not add sections for new dates manually – a bot does that for us each day at midnight (UTC).
- Create a level 4 header with the article name (==== Your article here ====). Add (RD) or (Ongoing) if appropriate.

  Then paste the {{ITN candidate}} template with its parameters and fill them in. The news source should be reliable, support your nomination and be in the article. Write your blurb in simple present tense. Below the template, briefly explain why we should post that event. After that, save your edit. Your nomination is ready!

- You may add {{ITN note}} to the target article's talk page to let editors know about your nomination.

The better your article's quality, the better it covers the event and the wider its perceived significance (see WP:ITNSIGNIF for details), the better your chances of getting the blurb posted.

Headers

- When the article is ready, updated and there is consensus to post, you can mark the item as (Ready). Remove that wording if you feel the article fails any of these necessary criteria.
- Admins should always separately verify whether these criteria are met before posting items marked (Ready). For more guidance, check WP:ITN/A.
  - If satisfied, post the item and change the header to (Posted).
  - Where there is no consensus, close the discussion section and change the header to (Closed). If the article's quality remains poor, leave a brief note explaining why to encourage and assist others in fixing it.
  - Sometimes, editors ask to retract an already-posted nomination because of a fundamental error or because consensus changed. If you feel the community supports this, remove the item and mark the item as (Pulled).

Voicing an opinion on an item

Format your comment to contain "support" or "oppose", and include a rationale for your choice. In particular, address the notability of the event, the quality of the article, and whether it has been updated.

Please do...

1. Pick an older item to review near the bottom of this page, before the eligibility runs out and the item scrolls off the page and gets abandoned in the archive, unused and forgotten.
2. Review an item even if it has already been reviewed by another user. You may be the first to spot a problem, or the first to confirm that an identified problem was fixed. Piling on the list of "support!" votes will help administrators see what is ready to be posted on the Main Page.
3. Tell about problems in articles if you see them. Be bold and fix them yourself if you know how, or tell others if it's not possible.

Please do not...

1. Add simple "support!" or "oppose!" votes without including your reasons. Similarly, curt replies such as "who?", "meh", or "duh!" are not helpful. A vote without reasoning means little for us, please elaborate yourself.
2. Oppose an item just because the event is only relating to a single country, or failing to relate to one. We post a lot of such content, so these comments are generally unproductive.
3. Accuse other editors of supporting, opposing or nominating due to a personal bias (such as ethnocentrism). We at ITN do not handle conflicts of interest.
4. Comment on a story without first reading the relevant article(s).
5. Oppose a recurring item here because you disagree with the recurring items criteria. Discuss them here.
6. Use ITN as a forum for your own political or personal beliefs. Such comments are irrelevant to the outcome and are potentially disruptive.

Suggesting updates

There are two places where you can request corrections to posted items:

- Anything that does not change the intent of the blurb (spelling, grammar, markup issues, updating death tolls etc.) should be discussed at WP:Errors.
- Discuss major changes in the blurb's intent or very complex updates as part of the current ITNC nomination.

Structure

This page contains a section for each day and a sub-section for each nomination. Eight days of current nominations are maintained – older days are archived.

To see the size and title of each section, please expand the following section size summary.

Discussions of items older than seven days are automatically archived

The "Timeline of the outbreak" ends on 29 June and much of the rest of the article is written in WP:Proseline or bulleted lists. I have no opinion on the event itself but the article is not currently being kept up to date and falls below the minimum expected quality. Dumelow (talk) 04:44, 10 July 2026 (UTC)

Nominator's comments: Leader of the largest party in the UK according to current opinion polls, and a widely covered story that could have significant ramifications for British politics going forward. Gust Justice (talk) 19:52, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose Firstly Reform only have a 8 out of 650 MPs and no amount of disproportational media presence will change that. Secondly this is just a publicity stunt to hide the fact Farage has secretly received large sums of money from questionable sources and has now been caught doing so. This is an attempt to derail the investigation. Local political drama of just one opposition MP. Abcmaxx (talk) 20:36, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose 1, it's not been officially called yet (the government could still block it by not appointing him to the office of profit). 2, it's still a local national matter (which I say as someone British). And 3, we don't tend to do by-elections on ITN. The C of E God Save the King! (talk) 20:40, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose, political stunt. Although I have to say I smiled at 2026 Clacton by-election with just the images of Farage and Count Binface. Black Kite (talk) 21:01, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Nigel garage is not an official leader or anything (other than his party) so there's no reason to post this just because of the resignation. Also, by elections happen often. Vetrenarisisum (talk) 21:35, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

  Oppose just another political drama. _-_Alsor (talk) 21:50, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose - We very rightly didn't post the Makerfield by-election, even though it was correctly anticipated to lead to the resignation of the actual PM. We absolutely should not post the resignation - as MP only, not even as party leader - of the unelected leader of a fringe party. This is ludicrous. GenevieveDEon (talk) 22:54, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

Oppose The article shouldn't even exist per WP:NTRUMP HiLo48 (talk) 07:47, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
WP:NTRUMP is an essay not policy, and it should be noted that not everything Trump does is tabloid drama. FIFA being corrupt/political is noteworthy and this is being widely reported. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:07, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
Oppose – Platonic ideal example of "Covered by Ongoing". There's basically a whole section on it there, though it's small. Not the biggest US-based news story of the week either. ~Maplestrip/Mable (chat) 08:06, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
Strong oppose this is just another one controversy of this World Cup, so there's no point of highlighting this one specifically. NotKringe (talk) 08:10, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

- Moot Now that the US have been crushed by Belgium, the fuss will tend to fade fast. It further confirms that FIFA is corrupt but that's not news so we need some further development for this to have legs. Andrew (talk) 09:41, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Comment Trump isn't even the issue here - he does stupid things like this all the time and it's not news. What is news is FIFA's response, because a non-corrupt sports administration would have told Trump to go forth and multiply. The issue of the governance of FIFA (see their response to the Belgian FA...words fail me) is clearly a news story but it shouldn't be couched purely in the terms of this particular incident, which given the match result has turned out to be irrelevant. Any other controversies are (at the moment) covered by the Ongoing. And yes, this article shouldn't exist, we have 2026_FIFA_World_Cup#Controversies for that. Black Kite (talk) 09:47, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
  I've nominated this for merging to List of 2026 FIFA World Cup controversies. It is a prime example of how much excess detail ppl are writing on breaking news over some controversy (more opinions, less facts) without waiting to see how far it lasts. Masem (t) 11:27, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

Nominator's comments: Could I suggest adding, in the Ongoing section, a link to the Knockout stage of the World Cup? So it would render as FIFA World Cup (Knockout Stage)? And we would periodically update to the next stages as the rounds advance. This isn't an error, so I didn't post on the Front Page Errors page. QueensanditsCrazy (talk) 15:49, 6 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose - We already have a link to the tournament, and that's sufficient. GenevieveDEon (talk) 16:14, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Weak support this seems helpful, though there has been a concern about Ongoing getting "too long". Natg 19 (talk) 17:21, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
  - I don't think it being too long is an issue for something we know will be removed in 12 days. The issue with growing length is things being added that won't be removed for years (forever wars). Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:09, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose per GenevieveDEon. Mr. Lechkar (talk) 18:06, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Support IMHO, this is helpful and accurate. I see no downside to directing readers to the place where they will find well-curated, useful information. I also don't think "ongoing is too long" is a substantive, policy-based vote rationale. Flip[and]Flopped Ⓦ 18:15, 6 July 2026 (UTC)

- Link to section The main article has a section for the knockout stage. The existing ongoing entry for the main article could be piped so that the reader is taken straight to that section. I.e. 2026 FIFA World Cup#Knockout stage piped as 2026 FIFA World Cup. Andrew (talk) 19:27, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
  - This works for me too QueensanditsCrazy (talk) 21:37, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
  - I would support this too. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:08, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
  - I disagree. A reader would click the link expecting information about the World Cup and perhaps want to read about it as a whole. Bringing the reader straight to the knockout stage subsection without making it clear beforehand could be confusing. Nice4What (talk · contribs) ♥ 03:06, 8 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose not really helpful as this page takes almost as long to scroll down to the current status of the knock-out table as the main World Cup article (which does a good job on its own to guide people to that section). Khuft (talk) 21:35, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose per GenevievDEon and other opposes. Jusdafax (talk) 06:36, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Weak oppose – This is a really good idea, and I am really on the fence. On the one hand, we're not a sports almanac, but on the other, this is exactly the data most people are interested in finding and would represent us as a dynamic up-to-date resource. In the end, though, I think it's most important for us to stay steadfast in representing the subject only broadly, warts and all. We're not just featuring a sports tournament, we're featuring an enormous sociological, logistical, and political event, and I'm personally not excited about highlighting the tournament angle. ~Maplestrip/Mable (chat) 08:14, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- I would support replacing the general tournament link with a link to the knockout stage, but having both is an oppose from me as too much. jcgoble3 (talk) 09:56, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose there's no point, we already have the World Cup in ongoing. We don't need to clutter the ongoing more with redundant stuff. Ongoing is not a place that tracks live sports and gives updates on tournaments. Vetrenarisisum (talk) 21:41, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose If the tournament is going to be linked, it should link to the main article. Greenflipper (talk) 17:06, 8 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Needless bloat. The main event is the feature, readers wanting the details can easily read the body where major summaries are provided. ITN is not a sports ticker. Gotitbro (talk) 17:29, 8 July 2026 (UTC)

Nominator's comments: Article needs the official results and seats added, also expansion as to the legitimacy of the elections given the result and that vast areas of the country were unable to vote at all. Abcmaxx (talk) 07:59, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose, another Sham elections

  QalasQalas (talk) 09:25, 22 June 2026 (UTC)
  @QalasQalas: Is there a source calling it so? There are different levels of sham elections. If this was outright staged then the current article and sources do not claim this at all. Abcmaxx (talk) 09:36, 22 June 2026 (UTC)
  Thanks for linking to a talk page discussion showing that there's a consensus in favor of "sham elections" 👍 And for convenience, I'll reproduce this comment again:
  > Admin note The event is WP:ITN/R and anyone who argues that this shouldn't be posted because it's a sham election will have their input discarded. If you want to argue that point, Wikipedia talk:In the news is the place to do so.

  Wait article is very bare bones. Scuba 13:43, 22 June 2026 (UTC)
  Comment While this is ITNR, the article in its current state is lackluster and in my view not detailed enough to warrant posting yet. In addition, no detailed election results have been published (only number of seats won by the ruling party), and as such the article cannot depict that. I would at the very least await more detailed results. Gust Justice (talk) 19:30, 22 June 2026 (UTC)
  Wait until counting is completed and final results are announced. Currently, the article is deficient of that. ACMehta (talk) 02:47, 23 June 2026 (UTC)
  I don't think this is a wise idea because preliminary results usually contain a lot of weight and political parties or independent candidates would declare victory based off of those results. On 3 May 2025, an entry was added (https://en.wikipedia.org/w/index.php?diff=1288640941) to the in the news section about the 2025 Australian federal election but counting took place in that election for about a month afterwards. Qwerty123M (talk) 02:54, 23 June 2026 (UTC)
  Wait. Article is not very large currently so there is probably a lot of material from the election that is not included. I disagree with @QalasQalas that this is a sham election as there is not concrete evidence supporting that claim in the article or that you have provided, additionally we would probably cover the election even if it were a sham but change the blurb, this section covered (https://en.wikipedia.org/w/index.php?diff=1215059398) the 2024 Russian presidential election which was widely criticised as a sham (not the nomination, the election itself). Qwerty123M (talk) 03:02, 23 June 2026 (UTC)
  The Tigray region was not included in the election. I'll add a an altblurb focusing on the announcing of results to follow precedent for questionable elections. Bremps... 15:47, 23 June 2026 (UTC)
  Oppose Election results in little to no change of power. Stunts1990 (talk) 12:15, 5 July 2026 (UTC)

- Isn't this stale now? Bremps... 16:12, 5 July 2026 (UTC

Nominator's comments: First domino in the end of the Pink tide. This super el-nino really changing the world, huh!? shane (talk to me if you want!) 02:30, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

- Comment - What does "most voted" mean? Do you mean "most supported"? Also, there is no reason to say "described far right". De la Espriella is about as far right as you can get. Just say he's a far right politician. No one would argue with that. Nosferattus (talk) 02:49, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

  I'm using the wording in the election article, it says that he is the most voted for presidential candidate in the entirety of the history of the Colombian republic. shane (talk to me if you want!) 03:26, 22 June 2026 (UTC)
  Assuming this means "got the most votes", but that is odd wording. Natg 19 (talk) 03:35, 22 June 2026 (UTC)
  I would argue with that. Looking at his policy, it would be a stretch to call him far right. If media called him that it's safer to say "described as". Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:48, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

- Comment There's an orange tag in the 'Candidates' section that hasn't been resolved since January 2026. CastleFort1 (talk) 02:59, 22 June 2026 (UTC)
- Comments. Alt blurb (sans "becoming...") proposed. De la Espriella's article is borderline acceptable for the main page; the election article still has gaps (but OK, it isn't bolded...). But suggest waiting for the final count (which would give us time to polish both articles, including deciding on whether it's "De la Espriella" or "de la Espriella" when he appears mid-sentence). Moscow Mule (talk) 04:44, 22 June 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose - He assumes office on August 7th. Militant.Insurgency (talk) 05:24, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

  We typically post election results, instead of the actual inauguration day, except for special circumstances. Natg 19 (talk) 05:56, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose on quality Aftermath section has a quality tag and feels like a lot of information is still missing given the closeness of the result. Abcmaxx (talk) 08:06, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

  Oppose on quality but Support Alternative blurb 2 A presidential election is usually notable and alt blurb 2 is the most concise. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:53, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

- Comment I've never seen an election blurb with a political stance mentioned on it (not even either Trump election). Nor does this seem to be the coup de grace of the pink tide if the map on that article shows a lot more blue in 2018, when Mexico and Brazil were on that side. Unknown Temptation (talk) 09:43, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

  Oppose on quality - the results are clearly unfinished and the numbers in the lead and infobox don't even add up. But when ready, support alt2, keep it simple. – filelakeshoe (t / c) 12:23, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

- Wait Neither Cepeda nor outgoing president Petro have conceded to the results and are both waiting for the escrutinio (thorough vote counting) which might throw different results to the preliminary counting. Sr. Knowthing ¿señor? 12:56, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

- Support altblurb3 Standardized blurb. ArionStar (talk) 19:39, 22 June 2026 (UTC)

  Support alt3 after the abroad vote section of results is completed, currently its empty and without any source. Rest article seems sufficient and complete ACMehta (talk) 03:02, 23 June 2026 (UTC)
  Support posting now The BBC acknowledged El Tigre as the winner last night, so barring pretty much every other news agency refusing to acknoledge a winner, we should follow the sources. Oppose on Quality There is an orange tagged section and the article feels very table heavy. Also, the first round foreign vote section has no numbers. Finally, the second paragraph of the lead has no sources and disagrees with the rest of the article (specifically, it says there were 13 candidates in the first round of voting but the candidates section shows 16). ~2026-36471-65 (talk) 15:22, 23 June 2026 (UTC)
  The more I look at this article, the more problems I find. The article needs to be flipped chronologically (so that later polls and voting rounds follow earlier ones). There are about 8 citations that are never defined. There are a couple of dubious claims in the lead (including the claim that Petro is the first leftwing president of Columbia, which someone on the talk page claims is false), and it seems that a sockpuppet may have dumped a bunch of halucinated text into the article. ~2026-36471-65 (talk) 14:44, 24 June 2026 (UTC)
  @~2026-36471-65 are you going to work on the article? Feel free to do it with reliable sources. _-_Alsor (talk) 18:05, 24 June 2026 (UTC)
  Update Cepeda has just conceded defeat (https://www.bbc.com/news/articles/cgrkqky5lzpo). Time to post, once the quality issues have been resolved. @Sr. Knowthing @Moscow Mule _-_Alsor (talk) 18:08, 24 June 2026 (UTC)

  - Support alt-2, with the focus on the winner (article is just about ok, so good to go now) rather than the election (work still needed). And "the Colombian presidential election run-off" reads better, I think, than "the run-off Colombian presidential election". Moscow Mule (talk) 18:38, 24 June 2026 (UTC)
    Support should I renominate Peru? It has been called by all major news sites now. Rushtheeditor (talk) 03:46, 25 June 2026 (UTC)
  Support he's been the declared winner by election authorities now. Scuba 14:27, 25 June 2026 (UTC)
  Oppose on quality still The article simply isn't good enough regarding tables and citations (or both). Black Kite (talk) 14:39, 25 June 2026 (UTC)
  Support Extremely notable presidential election. Stunts1990 (talk) 12:15, 5 July 2026 (UTC)

- Support altblurb3, it's a notable election, no reason not to post Vetrenarisisum (talk) 14:39, 5 July 2026 (UTC)
- Stale, this election occured in June and the results were announced over a week ago. Natg 19 (talk) 16:49, 5 July 2026 (UTC)

  Stunts1990 once an item rolls off this page, it is considered stale, and it should not be "rescued" from the archives, except for rare circumstances. The other condition for staleness is whether this event is older than the lowest blurb of the ITN template. Currently, this is the Venezuelan earthquakes with a listed date of June 24, so this election is also stale by that condition. Natg 19 (talk) 16:55, 5 July 2026 (UTC)

Nominators often include links to external websites and other references in discussions on this page. It is usually best to provide such links using the inline URL syntax `[http://example.com]` rather than using `<ref></ref>` tags, because that keeps all the relevant information in the same place as the nomination without having to jump to this section, and facilitates the archiving process.

Wikipedia:In the news/Candidates

This page provides a place to discuss new items for inclusion on In the news (ITN), a protected template on the Main Page (see past items in the ITN archives). Do not report errors in ITN items that are already on the Main Page here – discuss those at the relevant section of WP:ERRORS.

In the news toolbox

This candidates page is integrated with the daily pages of Portal:Current events. A light green header (dark green when in dark mode) appears under each daily section – it includes transcluded Portal:Current events items for that day. You can discuss ITN candidates under the header.

Glossary

- Blurbs are one-sentence summaries of the news story.
  - Altblurbs, labelled alt1, alt2, etc., are alternative suggestions to cover the same story.
  - A target article, bolded in text, is the focus of the story. Each blurb must have at least one such article, but you may also link non-target articles.
- Articles in the Ongoing line describe events getting continuous coverage.
- The Recent deaths (RD) line includes any living thing whose death was recently announced. Consensus may decide to create a blurb for a recent death.

All articles featured in the ITN template must pass our standards of review. They should be up-to-date, demonstrate relevance via good sourcing and have at least an acceptable quality.

Nomination steps

- Make sure the item you want to nominate has an article that meets our minimum requirements and contains reliable coverage of a current event you want to create a blurb about. We will not post about events described in an article that fails our quality standards.
- Find the correct section below for the date of the event (not the date nominated). Do not add sections for new dates manually – a bot does that for us each day at midnight (UTC).
- Create a level 4 header with the article name (==== Your article here ====). Add (RD) or (Ongoing) if appropriate.

  Then paste the {{ITN candidate}} template with its parameters and fill them in. The news source should be reliable, support your nomination and be in the article. Write your blurb in simple present tense. Below the template, briefly explain why we should post that event. After that, save your edit. Your nomination is ready!

- You may add {{ITN note}} to the target article's talk page to let editors know about your nomination.

The better your article's quality, the better it covers the event and the wider its perceived significance (see WP:ITNSIGNIF for details), the better your chances of getting the blurb posted.

Headers

- When the article is ready, updated and there is consensus to post, you can mark the item as (Ready). Remove that wording if you feel the article fails any of these necessary criteria.
- Admins should always separately verify whether these criteria are met before posting items marked (Ready). For more guidance, check WP:ITN/A.
  - If satisfied, post the item and change the header to (Posted).
  - Where there is no consensus, close the discussion section and change the header to (Closed). If the article's quality remains poor, leave a brief note explaining why to encourage and assist others in fixing it.
  - Sometimes, editors ask to retract an already-posted nomination because of a fundamental error or because consensus changed. If you feel the community supports this, remove the item and mark the item as (Pulled).

Voicing an opinion on an item

Format your comment to contain "support" or "oppose", and include a rationale for your choice. In particular, address the notability of the event, the quality of the article, and whether it has been updated.

Please do...

1. Pick an older item to review near the bottom of this page, before the eligibility runs out and the item scrolls off the page and gets abandoned in the archive, unused and forgotten.
2. Review an item even if it has already been reviewed by another user. You may be the first to spot a problem, or the first to confirm that an identified problem was fixed. Piling on the list of "support!" votes will help administrators see what is ready to be posted on the Main Page.
3. Tell about problems in articles if you see them. Be bold and fix them yourself if you know how, or tell others if it's not possible.

Please do not...

1. Add simple "support!" or "oppose!" votes without including your reasons. Similarly, curt replies such as "who?", "meh", or "duh!" are not helpful. A vote without reasoning means little for us, please elaborate yourself.
2. Oppose an item just because the event is only relating to a single country, or failing to relate to one. We post a lot of such content, so these comments are generally unproductive.
3. Accuse other editors of supporting, opposing or nominating due to a personal bias (such as ethnocentrism). We at ITN do not handle conflicts of interest.
4. Comment on a story without first reading the relevant article(s).
5. Oppose a recurring item here because you disagree with the recurring items criteria. Discuss them here.
6. Use ITN as a forum for your own political or personal beliefs. Such comments are irrelevant to the outcome and are potentially disruptive.

Suggesting updates

There are two places where you can request corrections to posted items:

- Anything that does not change the intent of the blurb (spelling, grammar, markup issues, updating death tolls etc.) should be discussed at WP:Errors.
- Discuss major changes in the blurb's intent or very complex updates as part of the current ITNC nomination.

Structure

This page contains a section for each day and a sub-section for each nomination. Eight days of current nominations are maintained – older days are archived.

To see the size and title of each section, please expand the following section size summary.

Discussions of items older than seven days are automatically archived

Article updated

Nominator's comments: Major deadly fire in Bangkok. At least 27 people killed and over 60 injured at the Rong Beer Na Lat Phrao pub in Chatuchak District overnight. This is one of the deadliest pub fires in Thailand since the 2009 Santika Club fire and has received extensive international coverage. The article is new and has been updated with sources, so should be suitable for ITN. No free image yet for the aftermath, but the article itself meets notability. The nominated event is listed on WP:ITN/R, so each occurrence is presumed to be important enough to post. Comments should focus on whether the quality of the article and update meet WP:ITNCRIT, not the significance.

Nominator's comments: Wimbledon is over now. There were 20 different championships and so it seems best to summarise the overall event. The pictures we have of the winners of the gentlemen's and ladies singles events don't seem suitable as they were taken elsewhere and they are not wearing white, as is required at this event. The suggested picture was actually taken at this year's championship and so seems the most appropriate of the few that we have, showing players in white on a grass court at the venue. - Oppose - Relatively minor shooting. With two shooters exchanging gunfire, this is likely gang related and not of any further significance. Nfitz (talk) 08:57, 12 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Ordinary gunfight which is just a WP:NEWSEVENT. Andrew (talk) 09:02, 12 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose on quality Very barebones, not quite up to standard that we expect. The C of E God Save the King! (talk) 10:03, 12 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Non-notabke Gunfight. ITN is not a crime ticker. Gotitbro (talk) 10:30, 12 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose on both quality and notability. Article has barely 1300 characters, and the shooting was relatively minor as said by Nfitz. R. M. Holda - (talk) 13:35, 12 July 2026 (UTC)

  Strong oppose Not convinced as to the true large-scale or long-lasting impact in Canada, or the effects for the wider region. I echo the concerns above about the true scope of this skirmish/shooting, and also concerns about the article's short length. Something this short would be suitable if we posted it an hour after it happened, but it's over 12 hours on from creation and it's still only this long, when more details should have been reported on and added to the article. Nominator's comments: The only edits in the past week (https://en.wikipedia.org/w/index.php?title=2026_Ebola_epidemic&diff=1363396294&oldid=1362281471) have been to update the death tolls and to fix references. The "Timeline of the outbreak" ends on 29 June and much of the rest of the article is written in WP:Proseline or bulleted lists. I have no opinion on the event itself but the article is not currently being kept up to date and falls below the minimum expected quality. Dumelow (talk) 04:44, 10 July 2026 (UTC)

Nominator's comments: Leader of the largest party in the UK according to current opinion polls, and a widely covered story that could have significant ramifications for British politics going forward. Gust Justice (talk) 19:52, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose Firstly Reform only have a 8 out of 650 MPs and no amount of disproportational media presence will change that. Secondly this is just a publicity stunt to hide the fact Farage has secretly received large sums of money from questionable sources and has now been caught doing so. This is an attempt to derail the investigation. Local political drama of just one opposition MP. Abcmaxx (talk) 20:36, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose 1, it's not been officially called yet (the government could still block it by not appointing him to the office of profit). 2, it's still a local national matter (which I say as someone British). And 3, we don't tend to do by-elections on ITN. The C of E God Save the King! (talk) 20:40, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose, political stunt. Although I have to say I smiled at 2026 Clacton by-election with just the images of Farage and Count Binface. Black Kite (talk) 21:01, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Nigel garage is not an official leader or anything (other than his party) so there's no reason to post this just because of the resignation. Also, by elections happen often. Vetrenarisisum (talk) 21:35, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

  Oppose just another political drama. _-_Alsor (talk) 21:50, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose - We very rightly didn't post the Makerfield by-election, even though it was correctly anticipated to lead to the resignation of the actual PM. We absolutely should not post the resignation - as MP only, not even as party leader - of the unelected leader of a fringe party. This is ludicrous. GenevieveDEon (talk) 22:54, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

Oppose The article shouldn't even exist per WP:NTRUMP HiLo48 (talk) 07:47, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
WP:NTRUMP is an essay not policy, and it should be noted that not everything Trump does is tabloid drama. FIFA being corrupt/political is noteworthy and this is being widely reported. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:07, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
Oppose – Platonic ideal example of "Covered by Ongoing". There's basically a whole section on it there, though it's small. Not the biggest US-based news story of the week either. ~Maplestrip/Mable (chat) 08:06, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
Strong oppose this is just another one controversy of this World Cup, so there's no point of highlighting this one specifically. NotKringe (talk) 08:10, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

- Moot Now that the US have been crushed by Belgium, the fuss will tend to fade fast. It further confirms that FIFA is corrupt but that's not news so we need some further development for this to have legs. Andrew (talk) 09:41, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Comment Trump isn't even the issue here - he does stupid things like this all the time and it's not news. What is news is FIFA's response, because a non-corrupt sports administration would have told Trump to go forth and multiply. The issue of the governance of FIFA (see their response to the Belgian FA...words fail me) is clearly a news story but it shouldn't be couched purely in the terms of this particular incident, which given the match result has turned out to be irrelevant. Any other controversies are (at the moment) covered by the Ongoing. And yes, this article shouldn't exist, we have 2026_FIFA_World_Cup#Controversies for that. Black Kite (talk) 09:47, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

Nominator's comments: A big step to end the war. ArionStar (talk) 03:49, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

- Support on notability This is a major development in a war not covered by ongoing. --MtPenguinMonster (talk) 04:22, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose My understanding is that Gaza doesn't have much of a functioning civilian government already as its infrastructure has been devastated. The more significant issue is whether Hamas is still armed, functioning as a military force and occupying the territory. Civilian government lacks power if there's a force like this on its territory. That's the big problem in Lebanon, for example. Andrew (talk) 06:15, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
  Your post is incorrect, there is a government there run by Hamas. See here. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 13:33, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
  The article that Salmon cites puts it like this, "On 6 July 2026, Hamas announced the resignation of its civil administration under the Gaza peace plan, though this did not include the military wing of Hamas and was judged to be unlikely to result in notable change to Gaza." That's my point. Andrew (talk) 13:52, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

It is still the resignation of a civil administration, we posted Keir Starmer's intention to resign, it didn't require the dissolution of the British armed forces. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 15:39, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

Starmer was a functioning PM. Gaza and Hamas don't seem to have an equivalent currently. The article Hamas government of October 2016 explains that During the Gaza war, Palestinian factions held intra-Palestinian talks in October 2024 where they agreed on a plan for a "Community Support Committee" to govern Gaza. After Issam al-Da'alis was killed on 18 March 2025 during the Gaza war, his post was left vacant, with Hamas envisioning that the committee would assume government affairs. This proposal later materialized into the National Committee for the Administration of Gaza. Andrew (talk) 16:25, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

That's not my point - it's that Gaza has an administration independent of it's military wing, which can be dissolved while maintaining the military. I wasn't arguing that Gaza is a parliamentary monarchy. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:16, 8 July 2026 (UTC)

@Salmon Of Ignorance we can also be confident that Starmer will actually leave office in a way we can't be that Hamas will actually dissolve their government - there's been countless examples in the last three years of Hamas and/or the Israeli government saying they'd do something and then proceeding to never do it. The Kip (contribs) 17:35, 7 July 2026 (UTC)

You'll notice I haven't (yet) supported the proposal - Andrew's initial objection was based around the political structure rather than whether or not this would materialise. I will always argue against an argument I think is illegitimate, even if I think there may be other legitimate arguments. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:14, 8 July 2026 (UTC)

Hatting off-topic tirade. The Kip (contribs) 16:42, 9 July 2026 (UTC)

- Weak oppose – For one I would wait for the actual dissolution of the government and its replacement being developed, and also I don't think the update is quite extensive enough for it right now. I hope we can feature this article when the dissolution goes through, however. Might be the end of an era, depending on how this plays out. ~Maplestrip/Mable (chat) 08:10, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Support on notability. This shows that Hamas intends to comply with the demands of the UN, at least to demonstrate this. Wi1-ch (talk) 09:56, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Wait until the actual dissolution takes place, as said by Maplestrip. R. M. Holda - (talk) 12:55, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Wait - There's been plenty of instances in this conflict of things being said but not done, let's wait until the dissolution actually happens. The Kip (contribs) 17:30, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Wait until actual dissolution of government. Otherwise, this is undoubtably a notable development. Nice4What (talk · contribs) ♥ 03:05, 8 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Agree with Andrew (a rarity). This is unlikely to have any meaningful effect even if implemented, and we have no idea about how/when that'll happen. This also has no effect no the Israeli occupation despite the misleadingly named "Board of Peace". Gotitbro (talk) 15:41, 8 July 2026 (UTC)

Ongoing item nomination
Nominator's comments: Could I suggest adding, in the Ongoing section, a link to the Knockout stage of the World Cup? So it would render as FIFA World Cup (Knockout Stage)? And we would periodically update to the next stages as the rounds advance. This isn't an error, so I didn't post on the Front Page Errors page. QueensanditsCrazy (talk) 15:49, 6 July 2026 (UTC)

- Oppose - We already have a link to the tournament, and that's sufficient. GenevieveDEon (talk) 16:14, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Weak support this seems helpful, though there has been a concern about Ongoing getting "too long". Natg 19 (talk) 17:21, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
  I don't think it being too long is an issue for something we know will be removed in 12 days. The issue with growing length is things being added that won't be removed for years (forever wars). Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:09, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose per GenevieveDEon. Mr. Lechkar (talk) 18:06, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Support IMHO, this is helpful and accurate. I see no downside to directing readers to the place where they will find well-curated, useful information. I also don't think "ongoing is too long" is a substantive, policy-based vote rationale. FlipandFlopped 18:15, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Tournament is linked. TMI. The current link already includes ALL the games and schedule/bracket. Nfitz (talk) 18:33, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose should be a clear link on main article, we are trying to cut back on too many links in ongoing. Masem (t) 18:35, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Link to section The main article has a section for the knockout stage. The existing ongoing entry for the main article could be piped so that the reader is taken straight to that section. I.e. 2026 FIFA World Cup#Knockout stage piped as 2026 FIFA World Cup. Andrew (talk) 19:27, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
  This works for me too QueensanditsCrazy (talk) 21:37, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
  I would support this too. Salmon Of Ignorance (talk) 08:08, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
  I disagree. A reader would click the link expecting information about the World Cup and perhaps want to read about it as a whole. Bringing the reader straight to the knockout stage subsection without making it clear beforehand could be confusing. Nice4What (talk · contribs) ♥ 03:06, 8 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose not really helpful as this page takes almost as long to scroll down to the current status of the knock-out table as the main World Cup article (which does a good job on its own to guide people to that section). Khuft (talk) 21:35, 6 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose per GenevievDEon and other opposes. Jusdafax (talk) 06:36, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Weak oppose – This is a really good idea, and I am really on the fence. On the one hand, we're not a sports almanac, but on the other, this is exactly the data most people are interested in finding and would represent us as a dynamic up-to-date resource. In the end, though, I think it's most important for us to stay steadfast in representing the subject only broadly, warts and all. We're not just featuring a sports tournament, we're featuring an enormous sociological, logistical, and political event, and I'm personally not excited about highlighting the tournament angle. ~Maplestrip/Mable (chat) 08:14, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- I would support replacing the general tournament link with a link to the knockout stage, but having both is an oppose from me as too much. jcgoble3 (talk) 09:56, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose there's no point, we already have the World Cup in ongoing. We don't need to clutter the ongoing more with redundant stuff. Ongoing is not a place that tracks live sports and gives updates on tournaments. Vetrenarisisum (talk) 21:41, 7 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose If the tournament is going to be linked, it should link to the main article. Greenflipper (talk) 17:06, 8 July 2026 (UTC)
- Oppose Needless bloat. The main event is the feature, readers wanting the details can easily read the body where major summaries are provided. ITN is not a sports ticker. Gotitbro (talk) 17:29, 8 July 2026 (UTC)
